1 First Chair Consulting

The Fiddler · “We set the tone.”

Setup

Place the Fiddler in any district. Start with no favours and four cards: two Just Passing Through and two I Can Wait.

One More Thing

Each card you play in a turn must have a different name. If your third card is a common card or Just Passing Through, you may repeat its effect. Use the same party for a common card. Each law applies only once across both resolutions.

Spending favours

After Party Openings, spend last year’s favours in any order. Each lets you move the Fiddler to a neighbouring district or perform an Operation for that party, even if closed. No agent is needed; normal Support requirements and laws apply. Discard unused favours. These actions cannot repeat or earn favours.

The Grand Tour

Make the first Party Opening each year, choosing a party without one of your open-door tokens. Place a token there. At 2–3 players, this restriction does not apply to your second opening.

Earning favours

When your third card is a common or party card, place a favour on the party you chose for it. Each party can hold only one favour.

Final favours

Start with no favours. At the end of Year 6, count each remaining favour as one card for final hand ranking.

2 Second Opinion Advisory

The Doppelgängers · “We couldn’t agree more.”

Setup & movement

Place your two doppelgängers in different districts. Start with four Parallel Paths cards. Each moves one doppelgänger to a neighbouring district, then optionally the other. Your doppelgängers cannot share a district.

Resolve sequentially

Perform the Operations one at a time, following normal agent and law rules. Choose targets separately for each. Apply each law at most once across both Operations. Your doppelgängers may travel with Organise but cannot share a district.

One card played

The copy is an extra Operation, not another card played. After both Operations, place your played card on the pile. The copied card stays where it is. Party and firm cards do not use your mirror ability.

Mirror the pile

The first time you play a common card for each party on your turn, note the top card already in its pile. You may also perform that card’s Operation. Resolve the two Operations in either order, using a different doppelgänger for each and the same party for both.

One opportunity per party

Only your first common card for each party can mirror, even if its pile is empty or you don’t use the copy. You get a fresh opportunity for each party on your next turn.

3 Third Party Interests

Hecate · “We knew you’d agree.”

Setup & supply

Start with three sisters anywhere, three movement cards and fourteen prophecies in hand. Sisters may share districts and perform any common Operation. Your six reward cards start face up in their supply, two of each Operation.

Placed prophecies

Prophecies are public and need no nearby sister. Limit: one per regional Election, district, party or firm. They remain until resolved, but you may withdraw them to New Year at any time.

Prophecy types

Election: predict a region’s voting margin. Place in Years 1, 3 or 5.
Harvest: predict how many pile cards another player will take.
Foretell: predict a common card another firm will play.
Trap: make another player send a common card to New Year when their agent enters the district.
Follow each card’s placement and success conditions.

Playing a prophecy

Play a prophecy only as your third card, after two non-prophecy cards. You cannot both play a prophecy and fulfil one during the same turn.

Success

When a prophecy succeeds, take one available reward card into hand and optionally move one sister to a neighbouring district. Election prophecies grant this reward twice. Take rewards after the triggering card finishes. Reward cards can be played from your next turn, following normal Operation rules, then return to their supply.

4 Four Familiar Faces

The Witch · “We know someone.”

Setup

Place the witch, crow, cat and toad together in any district. Start with the Crow, Cat and Toad cards in hand.

Familiar movement

Before performing its common Operation, the familiar may move to a neighbouring district. It must then perform the Operation.

Specialised familiars

Use the crow for Organise, the cat for Rally and the toad for Smear. The witch cannot perform common Operations.

Three teleport cards

Each familiar’s card teleports it to the witch, or the witch to it. Before or after teleporting, you may move that familiar to a neighbouring district. Then send the card to New Year.

Five Strings Attached

The Puppeteer · “Every move has a reason.”

Setup

Place the puppeteer in any district. Move him four times to a neighbouring district, leaving one marionette in each district he leaves. You may revisit districts. Start with three Set the Stage cards.

Mandatory cycle

After resolving a common card and its laws, retrieve the marionette that performed it. Move the puppeteer to a neighbouring district, leaving that marionette in the district he left.

Only marionettes operate

Use a marionette for common Operations, never the puppeteer. Your agents cannot follow Support during Organise.

Set the Stage

Play Set the Stage to retrieve any marionette. Move the puppeteer to a neighbouring district, leaving that marionette in the district he left.

6 Six Figure Consulting

The Haunted Gallery · “We can put you in the picture.”

Setup

Place your six portraits in different districts. Choose three to be awake and three asleep. Start with two Overnight Shipping cards.

Connected districts

Districts with awake portraits count as neighbours. You may use these connections freely.

Overnight Shipping

Overnight Shipping moves one portrait to any district without changing whether it is awake or asleep. Portraits cannot follow Support moved by Organise. They may share districts after setup.

Perform, then rotate

Use an awake portrait to perform a common Operation. For a party card, choose any awake portrait. After resolving the card, put that portrait to sleep and wake one that was asleep before you played it.

Other players using connections

Other players must give you one common or party card from hand before using your connections. One payment covers all uses during a single played card. Normal neighbouring connections remain free.
